

Cirque du Soleil, Alone

Alone
Watching life from above
Free from hatred and love
Watching life slowly pass me by

Alone
Soaring over the crowd
With my head in a cloud
Here, where no one can see me

I fly
Looking down from the sky
On a world that's so small
You can touch me at all
I'm too high

Alone
People laughing below
Laughter I'll ever know
Tears my eyes have refused to cry
For far too long

Alone
Far away from home
In a world of my own
As a heart slowly turns to stone

Alone
No hello, no goodbye
Watching dreams as they die
They're still there when you close
Your eyes

I fly
Looking down from the sky
On a world that's so small
You can't touch me at all
I'm too high

Alone watching life from above
Free from hatred and love
