

CJ Stone, The Sun Goes Down

Remembering all the time we spent
I keep on thinking about the past
'Cause like i'm living in a trance
I think you're slowly drifting away
And maybe giving another chance
To find out what we feel inside
The memories that we thought would last
We finally left them all behind
As the sun goes down
And the day comes round
Tell me why does all these feelings stay in me
As the sun goes down
And the day comes round
I will think about the good times
When the sun goes down
Sun goes down.....
Sun.....
Sun goes down....
Remembering all the time we spent
I keep on thinking about the past
'Cause like im living in a trance
I think in slowly drifting away
And maybe giving another chance
To find out what we feel inside
The memories that we thought would last
We finally left them all behind
All behind.....
As the sun goes down
And the day comes round
Tell me why does all these feelings stay in me
As the sun goes down
And the day comes round
I will think about the good times
When the sun goes down
As the sun goes down
And the day comes round
Tell me why does all these feelings stay in me
As the sun goes down
And the day comes round
I will think about the good times
When the sun goes down
