

Clan Of Xymox, We Never Learn

You can sail all the oceans
You can cross all the seas
You can climb any mountain
But you'll never be complete

We cannot escape ourselves
And this grand illusion called life
In time we'll awaken
In time we'll find

CHORUS

We never learn, we never learn
We search for answers
But our fingers will always burn
We never learn, we never learn
We carry on in one direction
And we never turn

We're looking for an answer
We're searching for a truth
We're hoping for a meaning
But we never found the proof

We cannot shed our skin
We cannot change our hides
We can't escape ourselves, not anyone
We just betray ourselves, just everyone
