

Classic Case, One One Three Four

i'll stay up all night watching trains pass by till i think you are here pay attention please to the thought of having other absentees both your hands are out of reach

i will lie awake till the train derails and i can finally fall asleep every breath i take seems to go to waste the more I talk the less i say you're hearing but not listening to me

if only you told me

where were you last night? you weren't by my side like the traffic was the lack of silence is combining with your distant pestilence would you laugh at my expense?

every breath i take seems to go to waste
the more I talk the less i say
