

Client, The Chill Of October

Cry the night away, you cry the night away
Boy i think its over

Youll never realise im gone
And were finally over til your heart feels the cold
And the chill of october

Youll never realise the fear
Now its finally over
Leave your soul to the dark
And the chill of october

Well its alright for you and its alright for me
Were just people who want to believe
We live in a world of dreams but they cant be forever.
