

Cliff Richard, Wide Open Space

I wonder if after all this time
you think of me.
Do you ever miss my company?
You never could doubt about the way that I feel.
Tell me: D'you feel it too?
It's funny how after all this time
you're all I see.
I wonder if you still keep your key.
And now that you're gone
there's nothing left for me here,
just a wide open space.
And I can't forget that smile on your face.
There's a wide open space,
and noone else can stand in your place.
There's a wide open space here in my heart.

It's funny how all at once
the world can turn around,
taking you up to bring you down.
And suddenly life has passed me by
and I'm left with a wide open space.
You know I can't forget that smile...
... wide open space here in my heart.

I couldn't believe it when I thought
I heard you say
you'd never be coming back this way.
And since you've been gone
there's been no love for my heart,
no, not a trace.
And I can't forget that smile...
... wide open space here in my heart.
