

CLOCK MACHINE, More

you've lost faith in god's religion your only friend have betrayed you right someone comes in the middle of the night hits you begins to fight i've got to tell you something there's a way to enjoy your life all you need is love much more love let me hear you say

more more
I want to hear you need some more
more more
I believe you deserve some more love love
just give to me some more what's goes around is coming back around i'm sure you'll find that out have you ever tired to be religious have you ever tired to understand your friends have you ever been bad to someone that did not deserve to be treated like that i've got tell you something there is a way to enjoy your life all you need is love come on much more love let me hear you say

more more
more more
love love
