

Clödie, Let me go

Being judged by my actions,
And nothing that I do seems just right,
I'm a river without water,
Is there any purpose in this life?

I'm screaming,
No one's listening,
I'm drowning in rain...

All I want to,
Take me home with you,
Into our own little world,
Don't ever let me go.
This is where we will reign,
No more suffer and pain,
Conquer all that is me,
And never let me go.

Are there any season changes,
Or is this world an endless winter?
There's no light to guide me out of here,
I need the key to open up your door.

I'm screaming,
No one's listening,
I'm drowning in rain...

All I want to,
Take me home with you,
Into our own little world,
Don't ever let me go.
This is where we will reign,
No more suffer and pain,
Conquer all that is me,
And never let me go.

All I want to,
Take me home with you,
Into our own little world,
Don't ever let me go.
This is where we will reign,
No more suffer and pain,
Conquer all that is me,
And never let me go.

Never go, never go, no,
Never go, never go, no,
Never go, never go, no,
Never go, never go, no...
