

CoCo Lee, Did You Ever Really Love Me?

My everything, you were my world
For you I'd do most anything
Just to make you happy baby

Gave all my heart gave all my time
My faith in you had me so blind
I never saw the heartbreak coming

CHORUS:

Did you ever really love me
You played with me feelings
You really should have let me go
Did you ever really love me
You kept me in the darkness
Now I'm the last to know

Although she claimed to be my friend
Her mind was on another thing
It cut me like a knife so deeply

She know I was in love with you
Don't understand how she could do
What she did while smiling sweetly

It was bad enough to be deceived by you
But also by a friend
Who's friendship I thought was true

Did you every really love me

You played with me feelings
You really should have let me go
Did you ever really love me
You kept me in the darkness
Now I'm the last to know

I heard that life could be so cruel what you did was so uncool baby
You brought me so much pain
You both played me like a game

Did you every really love me
You played with me feelings
You really should have let me go
Did you ever really love me
You kept me in the darkness
Now I'm the last to know

Did you every really love me
You played with me feelings
You really should have let me go
Did you ever really love me
You kept me in the darkness
Now I'm the last to know

Did you ever really love me
You played with my feelings
You really should have let me go
