

COIN, Run

Slip back out, stamp the ground
With your fist to the ground
Well the matter never seemed to push you away
Call the television, evangelist
Tell them all to grab another arm to twist this time
And if you're thinking that you might commit
Well you won't unfold, but you don't really know

Something tells me that you're never gonna stop 'til you get what you want.
Don't you tell me
That you never really thought
Maybe we can run?
Maybe we can run?
Maybe we can run?

Pick a fight, set the house on fire
With bombs in your eyes
Well the matter never seemed to make you afraid
Hit the ground running, Los Angeles
Find another naive on the twist tonight
And if you're thinking that you'd like to quit
That's fine, you never wanted it anyway

Something tells me that you're never gonna stop till you get what you want
Don't you tell me
That you never really thought
Maybe we can run?
Maybe we can run?
Maybe we can run?

Don't stop, don't stop
You'll never get closer
Run down, real time
Shoulder to shoulder

Something tells me that you're never gonna stop 'til you get what you want
Don't you tell me
That you never really thought
Maybe we can run?
Maybe we can run?
Maybe we can run?
