Colbie Caillat, Meant For Me

If I hadn't met you
The world would still be so small
There'd still be four walls
I wouldn't stand so tall

If I hadn't met you
I wouldn't know love again
Hearts can break and they mend
How things end and begin

I see love for what it was, not what it wasn't
And everything that happens ain't for nothing

You were meant for me to find
Meant for me to touch
Meant for me to learn from
Meant for me to trust

Meant for me to hold
Meant for me to choose
Meant for me to love
And Meant for me to lose

If I hadn't met you
I wonder who I'd be
I wouldn't be so free
Would've never met me

If I hadn't met you
Now I wouldn't be so strong
Found the right in the wrong
Learned how to move on

You were meant for me to find
Meant for me to touch
Meant for me to learn from
Meant for me to trust

Meant for me to hold
Meant for me to choose
Meant for me to love
And Meant for me to lose

Like a falling star
You wish on, till it's gone and fades into the dark
We laughed, we cried, we've got no regrets, and all the things you taught me I won't forget

You were meant for me to find
Meant for me to touch
Meant for me to learn from
Meant for me to trust

Meant for me to hold
Meant for me to choose
Meant for me to love love love
Meant for me to lose

You were meant for me
Meant for me
