

Coldplay, A Bright New Dawn

Hold me tight don't let go
Forever be yours in this bright new dawn
Open up your eyes for a big new surprise
Listen to me now in the bright new dawn
Fixing what's wrong
Seeing the people who don't belong
We will try to hide are despise
But it always comes out on the inside.

Nobody said it was easy together we can help change the world.
Come with me now on this island of love running away from all civilization
Open your eyes to a bright new dawn

Over all we have done good.
My heart is beating ever so quickly
Don't shade your eyes from the bright new dawn
