

Colin Bass, Denpasar Moon

Denpasar Moon, shining on an empty street
I return to the place we used to meet
Denpasar moon, shine your light and let me see
That my love is still waiting there for me
I saw you standing there
Through the rain I saw you turn and smile
Where you waving to me?
Through the rain, I ran across the street
But you were gone, there as no one
You had vanished with my dreams
Denpasar Moon, shining on an empty street
I return to the place we used to meet
Denpasar moon, shine your light and let me see
That my love is still waiting there for me
But you were gone, there was no one
You were gone, flying homeward
You were gone, there was no one
You had vanished with my dreams
Denpasar Moon....
