

Colorfinger, ? (Gay Bar Song)

Defiantly my favourite Colorfinger song, nice and fast, enjoy.

Wasn't that you walking down Pico Boulevard?
Yeah, wasn't that you looking cool, baby, walking hard?
Wasn't that you, falling drunk out of that black girl's car?
Yeah, wasn't that you?
Baby, wasn't that you?
Baby wasn't that you last night at the gay bar?

Yeah, you had a dazed look on your face and a big girl on your arm
You've been running around
Girl, you've been acting strange since we hit this west coast town
In March of last year.
I don't even know what we're doing here
I tried so hard to see what burns inside your heart,
Your burning heart
Baby, wasn't that you last night at the gay bar?

Well, we came from Texas with one single plan
You was going to model and act, I was going to play in a rock n' roll band
We didn't talk breaks or chance
We was going to make it real with our own hands
All you want to do is dance around and fall like some idiot star
Tell me is it true that heroin illuminates the dark?
Wasn't that you last night at the gay bar?
Baby, wasn't that you last night at the gay bar?

Well, you get your things and don't you dare come back
Yeah, I'm going to leave this fucked up place,
I don't want to see your fucked up face
I don't want to drag this mess around, hold you back, or drag you down
I'm going to close my eyes and turn around, and walk out hard
Yeah, because I can't deal with what I think you are
Wasn't that you last night at the gay bar?
Baby, wasn't that you last night at the gay bar?
Yeah, could have swore I seen you last night at the gay bar
Wasn't that you last night at the gay bar?
Baby, wasn't that you last night at the gay bar?
