

Connie Smith, I'll Love You Enough (For Both Of

I'll love you enough for both of us till you decide just how you feel
You're still not sure if you love me or not so I'll love you enough for both of us
I hope in time you'll find that I'm your every dream come true
A spark within your heart may start to glow
But then again it just might end it could be this way too
Whatever happens I want you to know
I'll love you enough for both of us alway remember how I feel
I'll wait around until you know for sure and I'll love you enough for both of us
I'll love you enough for both of us
