

Continental Drifters, Someday

Someday it'll all come back to me
I'm gonna look for it look for it everyday I'm gonna stare at the grass and watch it grow count every blade for a thousand miles

Someday it'll all come back to me
I'm gonna look for it look for it everyday I'm gonna climb that tree as far as she goes climb a little farther maybe see some snow

And if that doesn't take away my sorrow
I'm gonna get up again and do it tomorrow

Cause I don't like it being stuck down here it's dark and it's scary and there isn't any air and I feel like I weigh the weight of the world but I don't because you know I'm still a little girl and I can hear it running through the trees I'm down here I'm down here on my beggin' knees and when I hear it calling my name I'm gonna be there on that very next train

Someday when it all comes back to me
I'm gonna be with it be with it everyday I'm gonna pay my bills and stand where I stand and maybe even start a little rock and roll band and maybe my friends will give me a hand
and if that doesn't take away my sorrow
ahhhhhh
