

Conway Twitty, Don't Let It Go To Your Heart

So she smiled at you when you saw her today
And you're still thinking bout the things she had to say
She said leaving you was hard to do and it's sad we had to part
But don't let it go to your heart

So she told you she thinks of you now and then
Now you're thinking she might take you back again
But it's only cause she's lonely and she's about to fall apart
So don't let it go to your heart

Cause I'm your heart and I can tell you that it doesn't mean a thing
She's just like you she hangs on to a helpless hopeless dream
She's made the break and it's hard to take
As you watch her teardrops start
But don't let it go to your heart
[guitar]
Cause I'm your heart...
No don't let it go to your heart
