

Cool Hand Luke, Heroes Will Be Heroes

Well look at yourself, now.
Swinging that sword around.
You think there's something there,
but you're just fighting air.
You can't do this alone. No.

Hush, little boy, don't say a word,
don't you know daddy's got this one?
Hey, little boy, bury your sword,
Jesus already won this war.

Heroes will be heroes
The first to volunteer.
But no one here is asking,
and all the lines are clear.
All who are weak, at ease.

You push yourself too hard,
and your feet get so tired.
Can't look back just yet,
or you might lose this fight.
This is not your fight.

Hush, little boy, don't say a word,
don't you know daddy's got this one?
Hey, little boy, bury your sword,
Jesus already won this war.
