Count The Stars, Better Ways

Whatever it takes, to make you mine Now sharpen your teeth and bite my pride Whatever it takes, no I won't mind No I won't mind without you No she said, I can't work this hard for you No she said, I can't work this hard for you You showed me everyday, all of the better ways Of living everyday, it's true You took it all away, all of the better ways Of living everyday, it's true I suck it up, it's like dying again You fought with the words you held in your hand Stop wasting away, the better ways Stop wasting away without you With life in motion, this emotion is real With life in motion, pure emotion is real
