

Crack The Sky, Ice

When the summer night has changed its warmer breezes to the icy cold of silent winter freezes, will
When the flowers in the windows of the neighbors start to bow their frozen heads and to leave us, will

Chorus:

Will you stand by me against the cold night,

Or are you afraid of the ice?

Afraid of the ice?

Ice.

When the waters of the roaring ocean bring a chilling feeling and the beach is closing, are you near?

When the cloudy skies are blocking out the sun and suddenly your nose has begun to run, do you see?

Repeat chorus

Will you stand by me against the cold

Will you stand by me against the cold

Will you stand by me against the cold

Ice
