

Cryptic Wintermoon, Winter Of Apocalypse

Empty Streets, constant fear Faces mist, something's near Here in this valley of fearful dreams Where is nothing as it seems we are scared of things unknown our darkest phantasies are shown

A whisper in the deathlike silence runs like sirens through my mind
The shadows getting longer, night comes, no way out here I can find

A flash of light lighting up the darkness is like thousand nails cutting my flesh
These are the echoes of our darkest trips, this is our winter of the apocalypse

The smell of death is in the air, the fate of others I don't care the bloody end, now I can see, the one who dies is finally me I will fly into eternity; It's finally me

Now in my thoughts I even forge total extinction
I am the seventh sign, Devil's reincarnation

Strange, strange things you fear, now it is me, I am a part of the ancient enemy

Now in my thoughts I even forge total extinction
I am the seventh sign, Devil's reincarnation

My master has told me to escape the three dimensions noone believes, it's true I am the phantom in your nightmares the mystery beyond reality the bringer of your doomsday

Mayhem thoughts destroy my mind I am enslaved by the ancient enemy, the deepest abyss of my lost soul

A whisper in the deathlike silence runs like sirens through my mind
The shadows getting longer, night comes, no way out here I can find
A flash of light lighting up the darkness is like thousand nails cutting my flesh
These are the echoes of our darkest trips, this is our winter of the apocalypse

The smell of death is in the air, the fate of others I don't care the bloody end, now I can see the one who dies is finally me
