""English Translation""

&lt;/lyrics&gt;

on that day you left, I just waved good bye as usual as if we were to meet again in this city to believe in love is to not lose to myself until my wish comes true, I'll remain with a smile and look at the stars, praying, and will be here I want to be the sky for you even enveloping all of your pains whenever I look up, I want to feel that I'm not alone even if I'm far away let there be a place I can return to

I'm still living happily in this city without you because I feel that that's the one thing I can do now there's a hidden meaning to all things that happen I hope you'll remain yourself even if your dream begins to vanish because I'll always be here it's okay even if you're not strong enough to erase all tears after you rest your tired heart wish for a better tomorrow and fall asleep like the young children this vast world is connected the white clouds will flow and turn into wind to reach you will my voice reach you?
I couldn't say those overflowing feelings for you
let there be a place I can return to
let there be a place I can return to
