

Crystal Lewis, Runnin'

copyright Bill Baumgart, Michael Campion, Tim Heintz

Runnin' in and out of time
Spendin' every dime
Feeling all alone at night
Wonderin' if its all so right
And every day you work so hard
Playin' every single card
(But) Deep inside you search for more
Can you find an open door?
Who is it for?

(Chorus)
Runnin' when there's not a finish line
Stop your runnin' your just runnin' out of time
Settle down and catch your breath
Before you run yourself to death
There is nothing you can hide
He's always been there by your side
It's something only you can choose
You haven't got a thing to lose
If you let go, he'll give you more
You're atnding at an open door
You know who it's for Runnin' when there's not a reason why
Runnin' you're just runnin' for a lie

(Chorus)
