

Cyndi Lauper, Cold Sky

Walking down the street
Memories surround me
I'm lost in a town without pity
It brings me to my knees
Thoughts of me in your arms
Sends a shiver through me

My weary heart knows better
But I want you more than ever

I thought I was over
I thought I was over
I thought I was over loving you
I thought I was over
I thought I was over
I thought I was over loving you
But each time I look up I think of you
And it's a cold sky, it's a cold sky

Wish upon a red star to guide me
My footsteps lead me nowhere
I circle in the square
People stare right through me
As if I wasn't even there

A sea of stars above me
And no one here to love me

I thought I was over
I thought I was over
I thought I was over loving you
I thought I was over
I thought I was over
I thought I was over loving you
But each time I look up I think of you
And it's a cold sky

Walking down the street
Memories surround me
I'm lost in a town without pity
It brings me to my knees
Thoughts of me in your arms
Sends a shiver through me

I thought I was over
I thought I was over
I thought I was over loving you
I thought I was over
I thought I was over
I thought I was over loving you
But each time I look up I think of you
And it's a cold sky, it's a cold sky
It's a cold sky
Thought I was over, loving you...

Walking down the street
Memories surround me
I'm lost in a town without pity
It brings me to my knees
Thoughts of me in your arms
