

Cyndi Lauper, Winter Lovers

Another year's gone by Since we said goodbye
And I can hardly wait to have you come again
I've been living by the phone
I keep your letters in my pillow case
So I can hold you close pretend I am with you

Everyday is pale and empty
When you're not here with me
I got your memory burnt into my brain
I count the lonely nights until you touch me again
My heart is pounding like an oncoming train

I want to have you so bad
You know it's driving me mad
And I can't hide the way I feel for you
To feel your hand on my cheek
To hear the words that you speak
My winter lover turn me red hot and blue
My winter lover turn me red hot and blue

I need to steal your time
Play it over in my mind
Hide your clothes behind the firelight
Wrap me up inside your arms
And every kiss will melt my lips apart
Till the minutes stop and swallow up my heart

When you go back to your world
Does your head skip to me
My head is swirling snow on my window pane
I count the lonely nights until you mm... me again
I love you just the way a moth loves her flame

I want to have you so bad
you know it's driving me mad...
And I can't hide the way I feel for you
To feel your hand on my cheek
To hear the words that you speak
My winter lover turn me red hot and blue
My winter lover turn me red hot and blue

..Another day, another night
I wish I may I wish I might
The first star that I see tonight
..Another day, another night
The broken watch that's on my counter
Makes me think I'm lost without ya
..Another day, another night...

I want to have you so bad
you know it's driving me mad...
And I can't hide the way I feel for you
To feel your hand on my cheek
To hear the words that you speak
My winter lover turn me red hot and blue
My winter lover turn me red hot and blue
