

D:a:d, It Changes Everything

Enter the dreamhouse
Leave your history at the door
This place is for heroes
Like it's never been before
Don't guess a future
You don't know how or where it'll end
Senseless 'n' needless..
Maybe we'll learn to sleep again

It changes everyhting
But in the wrong direction
It changes everything
And what we turn into
Love conquers all
But evil won today
It changes everything
It changes everything

The world's falling to pieces
A sound so loud; it fades out slow
I've got nowhere to take you
Maybe except where I might go
The sky will be full now
Of money talking bombs
Carving their headlines
Just before the next one comes

It changes everything ...

Like birds that aren't in cages
They fly about on wings
Keep you awake forever
A dream that's constantly steady

It changes everything
