

d4vd, Dirty Secrets

I know the dirty secrets that you keep
And you know that you can't hide them all from me
I'll figure it out like I like I always do
And I know you don't want me to

I can't escape from this place we call our home
I saw you with someone when you told me you were alone
One hundred and fifty messages I sent right to your phone
And you don't ever answer 'cause you know your cover's blown

I know the dirty secrets that you keep
And you know that you can't hide them all from me
I'll figure it out like I always do
And I know you don't want me to

I didn't want an answer anyway
But you never cared about me anyway
I already told you everything I want to say
I hope everything's okay
I didn't want an answer anyway
But you never cared about me anyway
I already told you everything I want to say
I hope everything's okay

I know the dirty secrets that you keep
And you know that you can't hide them all from me
I'll figure it out like I always do, I always do
And I know you don't want me to, don't want me to
