

Dada, My Life Could Be Different

If there was someone I could talk to, somewhere
Someone I could touch, yeah I could feel
Then my life could be different right now
My life could be different right now

If there was somewhere I could go to out there
Where the dust won't seep inside
And weigh me down
Maybe my life could be different right now
My life could be different right now

Right now (if whispers carry miles)
Right now (if loneliness brought smiles, mmm)

(solo)

Yeah baby, my life could be different right now
Maybe my life could have meaning right now
Baby, my life could be different
(my life could be different)
Yeah, my life could be different, yeah
(my life could be)
My life could be different right now

If there was someone I could talk to, somewhere
