

Dag Nasty, You're Mine

the last time I spoke to you I was seconds away from losing my face but I'm much closer now, we're so much closer now and I haven't stopped laughing since I learned to laugh at myself when I fall down, and I'm much farther down we're so much closer now that you're mine to have and to hold until the end of time you're mine, you're mine
"I'm so tired of being alone" she said
"I don't wanna go back home - where the heart is"
and I feel like trash the closer I get to you but I can't turn my eyes away
the closer I get to you
'cause you're mine to have and to hold until the end of time
