

Dalbello, Stand In Your Way

Catching my breath... to try once again
Please let go of that feeling
You don't have to fear, no you don't have to bend
Honest to God... I'm not stealing

I'm feeling so low, I need to break the fall
It's tearing me apart that you're leaving
Once more for the road, oh how long can I go
Before I start... to believe in?
('cause I know)

CHORUS

I don't ever wanna Stand In Your Way
Don't wanna get between you and your heaven
I don't ever want to Stand In Your Way
If my love is too strong then you must go

Cashing in my chips again, ahh...ahh... it's such a shame
And Laughter holds the power over Silence
The tear that I touch, like the dew on the dove
It makes me feel... feel like dying
('cause i know)

CHORUS

I don't ever wanna Stand In Your Way
Don't wanna get between you and your heaven
I don't ever want to Stand In Your Way
If my love is too strong then you must go
