

Dali's Dilemma, Within A Stare

Close the door behind you
Hide from yourself
Destined to fall down
Praying for help
Pain embraces me
Holding me back
I was in envy
Fragile intact

Truth was forgotten
All the lies that had been told
Fear that leads to pain and silence
And honesty so cold

Life goes by
My truth remains
Follow your own way
Hide your false discouragement
Follow your own way back

Search for answers
Question your ways
Temptation
It's filling your eyes
The pressure leading out
Exit restrained
Altering focus
I'm not the same

Truth was forgotten
All the lies that had been told
Fear that leads to pain and silence
And honesty so cold

Life goes by
My truth remains
Follow your own way
Hide your false discouragement
Follow your own way back

Lead me to open arms
Handle my heart with care
Show me the face unharmed
Show me the love within a stare

Truth was forgotten
All the lies that had been told
Fear that leads to pain and silence
And honesty so cold

Life goes by
My truth remains
Follow your own way
Hide your false discouragement
