

Damiera, Via Invested

Via invested

let me in between the vestige astounding, as we think the blast of carbon lasted it fills the air, and shows me everything all - not stopping at the end where i deprived my stance to color in the past filling toward the often askewed corrections/collections that fall as we slip away the vested concerns are everything but true we'll slip away - call the answers everything but truth balance to be ahead of the impulsive impatience slowing yourself to live the shelf-life and antiquated
