

Damone, Leave Me Alone

I thought I made it clear
That I dont want you here
I thought that you'd be freakin bored by now
And all the words you know
Are I want you to go
So if You please just leave me here right now
Right now, right now, right now

Just what is it you got
That makes you freakin smart
You think that you can stay and figure me out
Theres nothing here to know
Just that you have to go
So get your things and leave me here right now

So why havent you gone
I think theres something wrong
You havent seem to hear me kicking you out
"you beg and fight to stay "
When I want you away
Because you know I need you here right now
