

Daniel Johnston, Now

If you think your thoughts so rationally
Then you might just see it's not so funny

Prey tell.
The wishing well will get you eventually.
Beware.
What you are is what you're doing there.

Love is lingering with you on it's mind
And it's giving you a moment so kind

Believe.
Your broken heart could heal so dramatically
And with a little luck
You could see a better way again real soon

As we stare into each other's eyes
And each year just goes so fast and goodbye

Look around
What your friends are telling you so free
Be gone
It's all over as the sun does set once more

If you think that love has a chance with you
Maybe hope can shine a light so true

Just smile
You can win the victory so sweet
And know
It's just another day for you and me

And tomorrow no more sorrow
You can all her - if you want to

There's a new way why won't you try it
Heaven sent it and you'll believe it now

Love can save you now
Love can save you now
Love can save you now
