

Daniel Johnston, Put My Love Out The Door

you put my love out the door
put my love out the door I rode out to your house and brought you a valantine and what did you do
out in the cold
now every february
my heart get sore
when i remember how you
i sat in your livingroom i told you that i really loved you you said you didnt wanna hear no more
out in the cold
i wrote something in the snow in front of your porch im carryin a torch
out in the cold out in the cold
out in the cold
