

Darius, Better Than That

I thought I knew you
Better than I knew myself girl,
I thought I found you
Hiding in the strength that's in your eyes,
But now I see you
Burning all the bridges in your world,
Now I feel you
Sinking in the quicksand of your lies -

Can't you see that you're slipping away?
Can't you hear what I'm trying to say?
(You're better than that)

[CHORUS]
Better than that
Stronger than that
(You're worth much more)
You're better than that
And you can turn back
(What's tried is torn)
Better than that
Stronger than that
(You're worth much more)
I'm telling you it's killing you
It's drowning you, it's spilling you over

I thought you knew how To chase away the demons of blind trust,
I thought you knew now
It's all about temptation
Changed by choice,
But girl you're crazy -
You're hanging onto reasons
Turned to rust,
You're eyes are hazy,
You've gone and lost the velvet
In your voice -

Can't you see that you're slipping away?
Can't you hear what I'm trying to say?
(You're better than that)

[Chorus]

I told you once, I told you twice
I told you baby
Now there's nothing more to say -
I'm missing the girl I knew,
While kissing the broken you,
But it's not up to me...

So don't back, face up to the facts
And you can turn back -
You're better than that.

Better than that, stronger than that,
Wiser than that, bigger than that You're better than the devil in you
Tellin you how, pulling you down,
Spilling you ??- but it's up to you
