

Darius, Gotta Know Tonight

I feel vulnerable, I'm scared
I hang on every word like there's a hidden meaning
It caught me unprepared
Now I'm climbing up the wall that stands between us

I keep hoping it's my imagination
Playing tricks with my heart on this occasion
I've just got this sinking feeling

So who's gonna drown now the dam's about to break
Tell me if it's me
I gotta know
I'm strong enough to tell you that it's more than I can take
I'm just hanging by a thread, gotta feeling I'm in over my head
Can't wait until tomorrow
Gotta know tonight

I feel naked, in your eyes
I'm so out of control it feels like I'm free-wheeling
Are we running out of time
I gotta find a way to stop this feeling

I keep hoping it's my imagination
Playing tricks with my heart on this occasion
But I've just got this sinking feeling

So who's gonna drown now the dam's about to break
Tell me if it's me
I gotta know
I'm strong enough to tell you that it's more than I can take
I'm just hanging by a thread, got a feeling I'm in over my head
Can't wait until tomorrow
Gotta know tonight

Cos when you pull back the covers
It's one way or the other, oh yeah
It's getting closer to midnight
I gotta go
Can't wait until tomorrow
Gotta know

So who's gonna drown now the dam's about to break
Tell me if it's me
I gotta know
I'm strong enough to tell you that it's more than I can take
Cos I'm just hanging by a thread, got a feeling I'm in over my head
Can't wait until tomorrow
Can't wait until tomorrow
Can't wait until tomorrow
Gotta know tonight
