

Dark Tranquillity, Bringer Of Torture

Young girl so sweet and once so innocent
Your life is so brutal, true emotions suppressed
You scream but he won't hear a word till he's had his way
Victim of the cruelest kind of love
Against his urges there is no defence
The one who gave you life stole your innocence
You want to be at any cost
But you're chained by the shame
And everything seems to be lost
Bringer of torture
You're not afraid of dying
Nothing could be worse than this life
You're terrified of the pain
The pain that returns with the night
Bringer of torture
Insanity and terror, hand in hand
Till childhood dreams come to an end
This situation, so vile and insane will never be over
He's coming back again, again and again
