

Darren Hayes, Light

Light
It flickers
Your light
Travelling down so deep
Illumination
I have been cold, I have been blind
You have come to change my mind
I can put my faith in you
Light
It blisters
Your light
Coming down so bright
Transformation
Turn it up
Give me some room to grow
Turn it up
Give me that sense to know
I have been cold, I have been blind
You were sent to change my mind
I can put my faith in you
From something ordinary
It's so extraordinary
I trust, I put my faith in you
In you
In you
In you
In you
The light
It glitters
Your light
When I stand this close
It's almost blinding
Turn it up
Give me some room to grow
Turn it up
Give me the sense to know
I have been changed, I have become
I have flamed under the sun
I'm the reflection of you
From something ordinary
It's so extraordinary
I trust, I put my faith in you
In you
In you
In you
In you
In you, you, you
From something ordinary
It's so extraordinary
I just, I put my faith in you
In you
In you
In you
In you, you, you
It flickers
It blisters
It glitters
In you
In you
In you, you, you
You are
