

Daryl Hall, Stop Loving Me, Stop Loving You

(Gaye, Hall, Allen)

When did you stop loving me
When did I stop loving you

When did the blue skies start to gather clouds
When did understanding start closing down
One day it seemed right, then tomorrow it was gone Oh yeah the lovelight burned down too far, burned too far

When did you stop loving me
When did I stop loving you
When did you stop missing me
When I was far away from you, oh...

Why do the grey skies still keep coming on Any way the wind blows it feels a little colder now Was it in this life we had the perfect day Lately all the laughter seems so far away, so far away

When did you stop loving me
When did I stop loving you

Blue skies are hiding now
Leaving my life lost in doubt
There are seasons, high and low
Does it matter - there you go

When did you stop loving me
When did I stop loving you

Blue skies are hiding now
Leaving my life lost in doubt
Yea, I loved you but now you're gone
Does it matter, baby, I've got to know

When did you stop loving me
When did I stop loving you