

Dave Gahan, Black And Blue Again

I'm back in the room with the two-way door
I don't know where it is, I sure been there before
The thoughts in my head, I just can't describe
They're just too insane, and they're all outside
All my apologies, they've been used up
All my words, they're not enough
I'm asking you on my knees
To look inside me
I'm black and blue again
I'm black and blue again
Do you remember we were such good friends
And now we're back in the ring fighting again
The taste that's in my mouth
You see it's not very nice
Screaming at you
There's tears in your eyes
All my apologies, they've been used up
All my words, they're not enough
I'm asking you on my knees
To look inside me
I'm black and blue again
I'm black and blue again
I'm not very nice
You said I'm not very nice
I'm not very nice
You said I'm not very nice
I'm not very nice
You see I'm not very nice
All my apologies, they've been used up
All my words, they're not enough
I'm asking you on my knees
To look inside me
I'm black and blue again
I'm black and blue again
Black and blue again
Black and blue again
I'm not very nice
You know I'm not very nice
You said I'm not very nice
