David Sylvian, A Fire In The Forest

There is always sunshine Above the grey sky I will try to find it Yes, I will try

My mind has been wandering I hardly noticed It's running on its own steam I let it go
Oh here comes my childhood A penny for your secrets It's standing in the window Not out here where it belongs

There's a fire in the forest
It's taking down some trees
When things are overwhelming
I let them be
I would like to see you
It's lovely to see you
Come and take me somewhere
Come take me out

There is always sunshine Far above the grey sky I know that I will find it Yes, I will try
