De Heideroosjes, I Can't Change The World

You tell me to conform but i won't You tell me to shut up but i don't You tell me it doesn't make sense To me there is more than hangin out with friends

I can't change the world But you'll hear my voice Don't you think i see it's a mess? Don't you think i hate all this stress Why don't you just stand up and fight I won't say it will help but i might

I can't change the world But you'll hear my voice

It seems i stand alone in a crowd But i continue to open my mouth If people don't talk anymore They have started a new useless war
