

Dead Infection, The End Of Love

Mike and Susan have been together for nearly four years now. They met at school when Mike had moved from Ohio. They were the happiest couple in the world. As usual they decided to meet at a caf. Mike was waiting for an hour, but Susan didn't turn up. He drove to her home. He found her parents trembling. Susan was dead. When she was one her way to a date with Mike she got crushed by a six-ton board of reinforced concrete. He went to see her in the mortuary for the last time. He saw her cranium crushed. Her brain tangled into her shiny hair, her ribs torn from torso and her breathless heart... ..and did he cry.
