

Deadman, Love Will Guide You Home out on the water in the dark of night

love will guide you home when your heart has been broken torn open wide
love will guide you home when your tears have no water and your well has run dry
love will guide you home
when fear takes over and darkness is near
love will guide you home
when you grieved for too long too long to care
and when you feel lost like you're losing yourself
when the trails of your life have you hurting so much
love will guide you home
when you're looking for something that you cannot touch
love will guide you home please send an angel and send him soon well love will guide you home
