

Deana Carter, Angel Without A Prayer

She's got wings that shine so bright They keep her up most every night burnin' her candle at both ends Livin' a life with all her friends

Only heaven knows whats up her sleeve she flyes to fast and she dips too deep (chorus)
She's an angel to high to come down She's an angel on the wrong side of town the lights go dime on her long golden hair She's an angel,an angel without a prayer she wairs a smile just like a crown she never seems to touch the ground the stars in her eyes keep her amused she keeps getting further from the truth everyday goes by just the same the same old lies with a different name

(chorus)

Devils around every corner waiting for her to fall she's daddy's little girl she's lookin' down at the rest of the world it gets lonely way up there she believes but she just dont care

only heaven knows whats up her sleeve she flyes too fast and she dips too deep.....
(Chorus)x2

she's an angel without a prayer x3
