

Death By Stereo, 1 Legged Man In An Ass Kickin

It's like a ton of bricks on a busted back.
You think you've got one up on me
You pull the wool over my eyes
Now I can't even see
It's like I've got one arm tied behind my back
How can I fight when I can't reach

They keep on kicking, but I know I won't fall you see
It's just too easy to let them win, I can't retreat
I will not slow down until the sky, my eyes can see
I won't let a ton of bricks smash me

Sometimes I just can not look back
And if I do, I won't cut slack
Been fooled before, I've been the sucker
I played the punk, I've been the other
Don't really care, I'll always suffer
One legged man pain knows no other

They keep on kicking, but I know I won't fall
I'm going to show them all how to play hardball
I will not slow down until the sky, my eyes
I won't let a ton of bricks smash me
