

Decibully, We Belong On Rooftops

we belong on rooftops watching sunsets kissing face
turning hours into lovers that we casually misplace we should live like children without children of our own not responsible for anyone so leave this kid alone we belong on islands watching sunrise
giving space
turning lovers into hours that we easily erase we should live like they lived fill the bathtub up with sand then we could crank the heat up and just pretend but it's not like me to make the effort all in time my friends or it depends
who makes an offer
all in times my friends
or it depends
make me an offer