

Deep Blue Something, Red Light

She said I think it's time for winter and the trains they're all here
I think I smell a change in seasons
I think the time for change is near

You say that we have no feelings
We feel like we're here for hire you packed it up and then you left me
It seems your plan has backfired

So follow me in the soft rain
You don't have to learn today
And you're still lying there in your daze
Well I'll ask the red lights if you can stay

I see the red lights over Denton town
I see them flashing all around
I hope we never lose this feeling
I hope we're never coming down

Well follow me in the soft rain
You don't have to learn today
And you're still lying there in your daze
Well I'll ask the red lights if you can stay

Well follow me in the soft rain
You don't have to learn today
And you're still lying there in your daze
Well I'll ask the red lights if you can stay
