

Deep Blue Something, Song To Make Love To

It wouldn't be so hard to sleep at night
If I could make a day without a fight.
I really think the world would be impressed
If it were equally as blessed...
Trying just to make it through the day,
Sleeping just to pass the day away,
I don't even know who to listen to.
What I need is a song to make love to.
Wasting years at alarming rates,
I can't just leave my life to fate.
If I could just find a new career...
One that involves a little beer.
Trying just to make it through the day,
Sleeping just to pass the day away,
I don't even know who to listen to.
What I need is a song to make love to.
